

Anders Sönnerborg, MD. PhD.

Karolinska Institutet and Karolinska University Hospital

Current job description

Professor at the Karolinska Institutet: Head of Unit of Infectious Diseases, Dpt of Medicine; Head of Div Clinical Microbiology; Director of Centre for HIV Research; Research Group leader
Karolinska University Hospital: Dpt Infectious Diseases - Director Clinical HIV research; Director Swedish InfCare HIV cohort; Division of Clinical Microbiology – Section head for HIV and hepatitis resistance testing and genotyping; Section head BSL3-laboratory
Member of the Scientific Advisory Group to the European Medicines Agency. Consultant to WHO.

Why do you want to be a board member?

Possibility to contribute to the further development of European collaboration within the field of antiviral research and diagnostics.

What is your contribution to ESAR?

Presently country representative Sweden. Responsible for the Swedish HIV cohort and the delivery of data to SPREAD.

What is your vision for ESAR?

Consolidation of the present activities. Enhanced activity within North-South collaborations and within the West- East collaborations.