

Jan Albert, MD. PhD.

Karolinska Institute

Current job description

Professor, Department of Microbiology, Tumor and Cell Biology, Karolinska Institute: Mostly research on HIV evolution, molecular epidemiology, but also on picornavirus, influenza and viral discovery
Senior Consultant Department of Clinical Microbiology, Karolinska University Hospital

Why do you want to be a board member?

Been a part of SPREAD/ESAR since the start and like to continue.

What is your contribution to ESAR?

Been part of the steering committee/board since the start and have been actively involved in the strategic and scientific work

What is your vision for ESAR?

That the network continues to be an important contributor to the study and surveillance of virus resistance, treatment and spread